Forecast For Highland & Eilean Siar
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Sunday 14 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Rather cloudy, outbreaks of rain. Windy, severe gales over Hebrides.

Today:
Mostly cloudy with occasional rain, preceded at first today by snow or perhaps freezing rain giving some icy surfaces. Brighter spells in the east. Occasionally severe southeasterly gales near coasts. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Tonight:
There will be scattered showers and clear periods overnight. The showers most frequent in the west and becoming heavy at times. A milder night with southerly gales, easing down. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Monday:
Rather cloudy and dry for much of the time with just a few showers, mainly in the west. Sunny spells towards Inverness. A milder and less windy day. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
It will be a changeable few days and staying milder than of late. There will be some outbreaks of rain and windy at times too, especially on Tuesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.